COLLABORATIVE PROJECTS

Going North — A multimedia project involving commissioning and collaboration with composers from Brazil and Canada. Works developed are for piano, pianist's voice, video and electronics. Premiered in Banff in 2010, Going North is now on its third series with a repertoire of more than 30 original pieces.

Rockeys duo — Taking its name from the majestic Rocky Mountains of Canada, the rockeys duo is a unique collaboration between harpsichordist Katelyn Clark (Montréal) and pianist Luciane Cardassi (Banff). Exploring the unexpected combination of piano, harpsichord, and electronics, the duo seeks to discover the possibilities of their instruments through performance, improvisation, and commissioning of new works.

Duo CardAssis — Contemporary music duo for piano 4 hands and electronics with Brazilian pianist Ana Cláudia Assis. The duo has been special guest at "Festival de Música de Morelia Miguel Bernal Jiménez" and at the "XII Festival Internacional Música Nueva Monterrey", in Mexico.

Piano Destructions — Music Director for the installation by visual artist Andrea Buettner, with 9 pianists performing live, simultaneously, at the Walter Philip Gallery at the Banff Centre for Arts and Creativity.

Rubbing Stone Ensemble — Calgary-based Rubbing Stone Ensemble was dedicated to the highest artistic standards of new music performance, with a special focus on commissioning new works, featuring local musicians and composers.

Tulipomania — A collaboration with video artist Leila Sujir in the creation of an immersive, 3D interactive, live transformation of her video Tulipomania/Day-old Venice triggered by a performance of Sciarrino's Perduto in una città d'acqua. This work about water, slowness, and the city of Venice is a tribute to Luigi Nono.
